Lista dei passeggeri trattenuti: tra questi, al n. 71, Bruno Nicolò.

All'arrivo, insieme allo zio viene trattenuto per controlli, poiché alla partenza dall'Italia è arrivato tardi all'imbarco. La sua destinazione finale era Ruston, Louisiana, dal padre Francesco Paolo.

A bordo con loro c'era anche il fratello del padre, Donato, anche lui si recava in Louisiana.

Abbiamo trovato che nel censimento del 1910 risulta essere residente nello Stato della Louisiana, Contea di Lincoln Parish, città di Ruston LA, al 202 di North Vienna Street presso Frank Scarcella ed ancora scapolo, anni 18, professione shoemaker.

Anno di immigrazione 1904: 12 anni di età.

Non sappiamo se dal 21 gennaio 1906, data di arrivo di suo padre, fino al 6 settembre 1912 sia rientrato in Italia.

Vienna Street - Ruston La

La via della sua prima residenza in Vienna Street - Ruston

He was born in Trapani on February 15th, 1892.

His first emigration to America was on 1904. He left with his uncle Dionisio Scontrino, from the port of Naples on ship "Patria", October 1st, 1904, arriving to Ellis Island on October 19th.

Nicolò and Dionisio were detained at Ellis Island because they were late to get on board at the port of Naples. His final destination was Ruston, Louisiana, to his father Francesco Paolo.

On the same ship there was also his father's brother, Donato; he was going to reach his brother

We also found the 1910 census; we can see that Nicolò is resident in the State of Louisiana, Lincoln Parish, town of Ruston; he lives at 202 North Vienna Street with the family of Frank Scarcella, he was 18 years old, job shoemaker

Year of immigration 1904 : 12 years old.

We don't know if between January 21st, 1906, date of arrival of his father, and September 6th 1912, he ever came back home in Italy.

Si evince che un ultimo viaggio lo riporta in Italia per la chiamata alle armi e per partecipare alla I Guerra Mondiale.

He makes a trip back home to make a military service and to attend World War 1.

Si riportano qui di seguito i dati più interessanti del suo foglio matricolare:

Dal foglio matricolare emergono le seguenti altre interessanti notizie:

1. che dal 23 agosto 1912 al 30 agosto 1919 si trovava in Italia.
Non abbiamo riferimenti sul suo arrivo;
2. che di conseguenza alla sua partecipazione alla I Guerra mondiale è stato insignito della Medaglia a ricordo della guerra 1915-1918 – concessione n. 85434 G.;
3. che l'arte o professione dichiarata: operatore cinematografico;
4. che ha dato come suo domicilio quello del 106 Second Street (sul foglio matricolare non è bene riportata la città) e non quello di Trapani il che fa rilevare la sua volontà di rientrare subito negli USA.

From his military service we have these information:

1. he was in Italy between August 23rd, 1912 to August 30th, 1919;
We don't know when he comes back home from USA;
2. he attended World War 1, and got the 1915-1918 WW1 medal, authorization n. 85434 G.;
3. he declared that his job was: movie operator
4. his address after the end of military service was 106 Second Street (on his military record the name of town is not really readable); this address was not that one of Trapani, to show that he wanted to go back to USA.

Postcard sent from his mother on august 27th, 1915, during his military service in Italy.

Una certezza definitiva ci perviene attraverso i documenti di sbarco del suo ultimo viaggio di rientro in America.

We also have his emigration record.

Partì il 24 aprile 1921 dal Porto di Palermo con la nave Patria, 18 mesi e 24 giorni dopo il suo congedo.

He left on April 24th, 1921 from the port of Palermo, on ship "Patria" almost 19 months later he ended the military service

Come abbiamo detto, non si hanno notizie del primo periodo di permanenza tranne che nel 1906 aveva la residenza, a pochi chilometri da Monroe.

Non si hanno notizie di quello che è successo dopo l'ultimo viaggio, che tipo di lavoro svolse, dove andò ad abitare e se mantenne il contatto con il suo amico Giuseppe La Monica.

Intanto assunse il nome di Nicholas.

Alcune cose si sono sapute dopo la fine della seconda guerra mondiale, quando assieme ai pacchi dono che inviava alla famiglia dava notizie di se.

BRUNO'S SHOP RANKS AT TOP

Its Owner Today Progressive Resident Of Monroe

Shortly after the World war, Michel Bruno was an uneducated alien in the "Cotton" fields. Today he is a progressive Monroe citizen, proprietor of Bruno's Electric Shoe Shop, 214 North Second street.

Opening the shop at its present location 10 years ago, he found it along to the existing resistance to new methods with the usual electric services for repairing shoes and leather goods of the kind. It is one of the most profitable pieces of the kind in the city.

This shop is not the first shop he owned in Monroe. He came here after to return to his native Italy in 1912. Then came the war and long years of service in the United States Army from Italy came. Mr. Bruno came a long way from the United States, landing in New Orleans during the "Suffragette" movement.

Undecided by the number of the employed men in the public works, within a few days he obtained a job at the Iron Works. He knew, one he learned in Italy—that of a motion picture operator. He went to work for the Iron Works, but which he learned during his last residence in Monroe. In 1922 he moved back here and went to work in the building shoe repair shop in the city. There he remained for six years, until he opened his own place of business.

Meanwhile, he became a naturalized citizen of the United States. He is a member of the Immigrant League, a labor club and chamber of commerce.

Mr. Bruno first came to Monroe in 1912 after landing for two or three years in other parts of the country. Since he started shoe repairing, he earned his living as a motion picture operator.

Being specializing in leather repairing, the shop operates a shoe-making and shoe repair and handles a complete line of patterns and does shoe fitting of every kind. Additionally, work supports, binding, hair and dyes.

The shop telephone number is 214.

BRUNO'S SHOP ELEVATO AL MASSIMO

Appena dopo la Prima Guerra Mondiale, Nicholas Bruno era uno straniero disoccupato a New Orleans.

Oggi egli è un cittadino "progressista" di Monroe, proprietario del Bruno's Electric Shoe Shop al 106 North Second Street.

Dieci anni fa aprì il negozio presso l'attuale indirizzo, lo ha curato fino a farlo diventare l'impresa che è oggi.

Equipaggiato con gli ultimi strumenti elettrici per riparare scarpe e oggetti in pelle di ogni tipo, il negozio è il più all'avanguardia, del suo genere, in città.

Ma questo non è il primo negozio che egli ha avuto in città.

Egli ne ha chiuso uno per ritornare nella sua nativa Italia nel 1912. Poi venne la guerra, con lunghi anni in servizio nell'esercito italiano. Quando la pace finalmente arrivò, Mr. Bruno prese la nave per gli Stati Uniti, sbarcò senza lavoro a New Orleans durante la depressione che ha avuto seguito immediatamente la fine del conflitto.

Non scoraggiato dal numero di uomini disoccupati in giro per i parchi pubblici, in pochi giorni egli ottenne un lavoro a primo colpo, quello di operatore dello spettacolo (cinematografico). Egli aggiunse alle sue entrate quelle ottenute dalla riparazione delle scarpe, arte che ha imparato durante la sua prima residenza a Monroe. Nel 1921 è ritornato qui, ed è andato a lavorare nel miglior negozio di riparazione scarpe della città. Lì è rimasto per sei anni, fino a quando si è aperto una sua attività. Nel frattempo divenne cittadino americano. Egli è membro dell'American Legion e altre organizzazioni civiche e fraternali.

Mr. Bruno è venuto per la prima volta 25 anni fa, dopo aver risieduto per due o tre anni in altre parti del paese. Fino a quando non ha imparato a riparare scarpe, si guadagnava da vivere come operatore dello spettacolo (cinematografico).

Oltre ad essere specializzato nel riparare pelli, il negozio ha un salottino d'attesa, e una completa linea di lucidi, tinture, stringhe per scarpe di ogni tipo e colore, plantari, soles per scarpe da ballo e simili.

Il numero di telefono del negozio è 4155.

Native Of Italy Reaches Monroe To Make His Home

A 35-year-old man arrived in Monroe over the week end from Trapani, Italy, to make his home in Monroe.

Monday Frank Paul Bruno, nephew of Nick Bruno, well-known Monroe businessman, was busy making new acquaintances and looking over the downtown area of his new home.

Handicapped by having no knowledge of English, the young man spoke with facial expressions and seemed excited and happy at all that he was finding in Monroe.

Nick Bruno, who has worked for the past five years in order to get his nephew into the United States, said "here he will have an opportunity." He will make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Bruno at 517 Alexander Avenue.

The first thing that Frank will do, Nick Bruno said, is apply for citizenship papers and then he will go to school to learn the English language. Reminiscing over the past years, Mr. Nick recalled that he had come to the United States 35 years ago from Trapani in southern Italy, and had taught his ownself how to read, write and speak English.

Frank Bruno arrived in New York on Feb. 15 from Italy and landed in Monroe Saturday night. In Italy he left behind his mother and a brother. His father, who was Nick Bruno's brother, has been dead for a number of years.

As far as a trade or profession is concerned at the present time, Frank is still undecided. In Italy he had worked for some time as a radio technician, but his plans at present have not been decided.
